Distinguished service crosses have been awarded to the following officers and soldiers for the acts of extraordinary heroism described after their names:

Chaplain Winfred E. Robb, 16th Inf. For extraordinary heroism throughout the advance across the River Ourcin northeast of Chateau Thierry, France, 26th July, 24 August, 1918. During the pursuit of the enemy by the 16th infantry across the River Ourcin, Captain Robb distinguished himself by his bravery under fire. During all of this time and particularly during the operations near Serpy, he showed the greatest coolness under severe artillery fire in attending and carrying the wounded and dying, and in every way ministering to the needs of the men of his regiment. Home address: Mrs. Winfred E. Robb, wife, R. F. D. 1, Lebanon, Kan.

Private J. H. Burchfield, medical detachment, 16th Inf. For extraordinary heroism in action throughout the operations south of Soissons, France, 18th-22d July, 1918. During the entire operation he repeatedly exposed himself to heavy enemy fire in order to dress and evacuate the wounded. On 22d July he went through a heavy enemy barrage to render first aid to the wounded in the front line and to evacuate them to the rear, and was himself wounded while engaged in this work. Home address: Mrs. Alice Burchfield, mother, 214 East Park street, Salem, Ohio.

Major Henry W. Hobson, 355 Inf. For extraordinary heroism in action near St. Mihiel, France, 12th September, 1918. Within ten minutes after the beginning of the advance at 5 a. m. Major Hobson was twice wounded, once in the shoulder by a machine gun bullet and once by shrapnel in the leg. Being in command of the assault battalion and realizing the importance of its operations, he continued to accompany and direct his command throughout the day notwithstanding his wounds which caused him great pain and difficulty of movement. At last he had to be assisted to lie down and get up by his adjutant, nevertheless he remained on duty until the fighting of the day was over. Home address: Mrs. George McKenzie, care of A. D. Parker, 1706 Commercial Trust Bldg., Philadelphia, Pa.

Private Henry C. Richmond, company M, 24d Inf., deceased. For extraordinary heroism in action near Vaux, France, 1st-2nd July, 1918. He moved through heavy woods along under heavy machine gun fire flanking dugouts from which twelve German prisoners were taken. In the action 6th-10th-19th July near Soissons, France, showing the same fearless qualities, he was killed. Next of kin: Mrs. Clara Bovam, sister, Anderson, Ind.

Private Wm. L. Simms, company A, 13th machine gun battalion. For extraordinary heroism in action at Frapelle, France, 16th-18th August, 1918. Private Simms, while acting as a runner, showed exceptional bravery in carrying messages through a heavy-shelled and shrapnel area. After being wounded in the hand he made twelve trips from Frapelle to his company headquarters, Chapelle Saint Clair. Home address: W. E. Simms, father, McLean, Texas.

Private Arthur Dieter, company A, 163d engineers. For extraordinary heroism in action at Saint Agnan, France, 16th July, 1918. On four different occasions during the night of July 16th he volunteered and under heavy shell and machine gun fire successfully rescued wounded comrades. Home address: Mrs. Rose Dieter, mother, Scranton, Pa.

First Lieut. Charles C. Conaty, Chaplain, 11th Inf. For extraordinary heroism in action near Crezanoy, France, 16th July, 1918. Without regard for his personal safety, Chaplain Conaty, under intense shell fire following the attack of his troops from Crezanoy to the Marne River, attended the wounded and throughout the night searched for and assisted in carrying wounded to the dressing station. Home address: Francis P. Conaty, 23 Holmes Ave., Taunton, Mass.

Sergeant John Blohm, Co. B, 265th Inf. For extraordinary heroism in action near Ithau, France, 2nd September, 1918. From a shell hole in which he had taken shelter while returning from a successful daylight patrol across the Vesle River, Sergeant Blohm saw a corporal of his patrol dragging himself through the grass bleeding profusely from a wound in the neck. He unhesitatingly left his shelter, carried the corporal behind a tree near the river bank, dressed his wound and, using boughs from a fallen tree as an improvised raft, towed the injured man across the river and carried him 200 yards over an open field to the American outpost line, all under continuous rifle and machine gun fire. Home address: Rudolph Blohm, 4822 New Utrecht Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Private 1st Class Donald J. Emery, Medical Detachment, attached Company L, 117th Inf. For extraordinary heroism in action near Dickenbush, France, 22d August, 1918. Displaying an absolute disregard of danger in caring for wounded under shell and rifle fire and a continuous cheerfulness under trying conditions, his courageous example was inspiring to his comrades. Home address: Colonel Curtis S. Emery, father, 15 Prospect street, Newport, Vt.

Corporal Charles R. Henderson, Headquarters Co., 107th Inf. For extraordinary heroism in action near Dickenbush, France, 22d August, 1918. When his post was attacked by a greatly superior number of the enemy, he heroically defended it in spite of the loss of six of his squad and succeeded in driving off the enemy. Next of kin: Mrs. Charles R. Henderson, wife, 10 Ridgewood Ave., White Plains, N. Y.

First Lieut. Albert G. Jefferson, Co. C, 131st Inf. For extraordinary heroism in action at Hamel, Belgium, 4th July, 1918. After being severely wounded in the breast and shoulder from shell fire, Lieut. Jefferson continued with and commanded his platoon until its final objective was reached and its consolidation was completed. Home address: Ernest S. Jefferson, brother, 1011 Home Ave., Oak Park, Ill.

Corp. Albert C. Painsipp, Company A, 132nd Inf. For extraordinary heroism in action at Hamel, Belgium, 4th July, 1918. Singlehanded he attacked a German machine gun emplacement. Although wounded in the leg when a machine gun was trained upon him, he boldly attacked it with hand grenades and drove off the crew. Home address: Mrs. D. Alberovsky, mother, Batavia, Ill.

Corporal Thomas A. Pope, Company E, 131st Inf. For extraordinary heroism in action at Hamel, Belgium, 4th July, 1918. Corporal Pope rushed a hostile machine gun singlehanded, bayoneted several of the crew and, standing astride the gun, kept the remainder of the detachment at bay until the arrival of reinforcements which killed or captured the rest of the enemy. Home address: J. J. Pope, brother, 694 Overhill Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Sergeant James E. Krum, Company E, 131st Inf. For extraordinary heroism in action at Hamel, Belgium, 4th July, 1918. Although severely wounded in the right arm at the beginning of the engagement, Sergeant Krum continued forward as squadron leader, exhibiting great gallantry and setting an inspiring example to his men. After his wound had been dressed he insisted upon returning to duty with his platoon. Home address: Harold Krum, brother, 6504 Nordick Ave., Edison Park, Chicago.

Private Wm. F. Linzky, Company E, 131st Inf. For extraordinary heroism in action at Hamel, Belgium, 4th July, 1918. Private Linzky was severely wounded in the right arm by shrapnel at the beginning of the battle. Nevertheless he carried his automatic rifle forward and used it effectively in the assault on the village. Home address: Mrs. Mary Linzky, mother, 390 -St. Chicago, Ill.

Corporal Andrew C. Shabinger, Co. F, 131st Inf. For extraordinary heroism in action at Hamel, Belgium, 4th July, 1918. Although severely wounded in the arm at the beginning of the engagement, Corporal Shabinger continued forward as squad leader, exhibiting great gallantry and setting an inspiring example to his men. Home address: Mrs. Emma Whitson, 6816 Olcott Ave., Chicago.

Private F. R. Wilkins, Company A, 142nd Inf. For extraordinary heroism in action at Hamel, Belgium, 4th July, 1918. Unaided, Private Wilkins attacked a machine gun position with hand grenades drove off the gun crew and captured the gun. Home address: Mrs. Geo. Green, sister, 55 May St., Freeport, Ill.

Private Christopher W. Keane, Medical Detachment, 131st Inf. For extraordinary heroism in action at Hamel, Belgium, 4th July, 1918. Through the engagement Private Keane displayed great gallantry and devotion to duty by treating the wounded in an area swept by machine gun and artillery fire. When two stretcher bearers were working with him were killed, he impressed the German prisoners into the service of carrying wounded to the aid station. Home address: Mrs. Anna A. Keane, mother, 4712 West Monroe St., Chicago, Ill.

Recipe for a Mild Laxative Cough Syrup
Made With Simple Sugar Syrup and Mentho-Laxene in About Five Minutes.

Make a syrup with a pint of sugar and a half pint of boiling water, cool and pour into a bottle or jar. Then add the contents of a 2 1/2 ounce bottle of Mentho-Laxene, shake well, and take a teaspoonful four to eight times a day for head or chest colds, coughs, bronchitis, whooping cough or catarrh of head and throat.

Actually, the very first dose will show you the wonderful virtues in Mentho-Laxene. It is penetrating, healing, soothing and curative to a greater extent than anything ever discovered. Children like it and adults use it from Maine to California. Physicians prescribe it, hospitals use it, and why should not you enjoy the benefits of a cheap, home-made remedy free from narcotic, sickening drugs? Ask your druggist for Mentho-Laxene and insist on getting it, for it is guaranteed to please every purchaser or money back by the Blackburn Products Co., Dayton, O.—Advertisement.

BAKER VISITS AMERICANS.
PARIS, Oct. 12.—The American secretary of war, Newton D. Baker, arriving in France, called upon Miss Katherine E. Lansing, and Miss Emma S. Lansing, of Watertown, N. Y., sisters of the American secretary of state, who have organized a Red Cross canteen for wounded American soldiers at a French port. Mr. Baker's call was a official and intended as a mark of courtesy to his colleagues in the United States cabinet but he manifested interest in the work accomplished by the Misses Lansing and congratulated them upon their recent decoration with the French war cross for services rendered under fire.

The Misses Lansing have organized here a canteen for distributing sandwiches, hot drinks, cigarettes and chocolate to the wounded men returning to America. In the delays between training and settling on board steamers, there are sometimes long intervals in which no food is served to the wounded men. Consequently they greatly appreciate the good things distributed among them by the Misses Lansing as a parting godsend from the Red Cross.

3 UTAHNS, 1 IDAHOAN IN CASUALTY LISTS
Three Utah boys and one Idahoan were mentioned in yesterday's casualty list from the front.

Otto Bell of Heber City is reported as having been severely wounded and Monroe McDonald, also of Heber City, is reported to have died of disease.

Aaron W. Hagelan of Ogden is reported as slightly wounded.

Corporal Clifford T. Burt of Twin Falls, Idaho, is reported to be severely wounded. Corporal Burt is the son of C. T. Burt, a farmer residing near Twin Falls. The young man was a resident of Oregon when he entered the service and he is with an infantry company. His parents received a letter from him, September 7, saying that he had been wounded in the hand on August 8, and was in a hospital, but expected to return soon to the front. It is presumed that the wound mentioned yesterday is his second.

Corporal Clifford was a resident of Twin Falls for seven years and is 25 years of age.

ATTORNEY'S ILLNESS HALTS WILL CASE
SALT LAKE, Oct. 16.—The ordering to bed yesterday afternoon by his physicians of Attorney W. W. Ray, counsel for Wallace M. Bransford, resulted in holding up progress of the trial before Judge Harold M. Stephens of the action brought by Mrs. Susanna B. Holmes to recover half of the estate of $800,000 left to Mr. Bransford by his wife, the late Louise Grace Emery Bransford, adopted daughter of Mrs. Holmes.

The court was informed upon reconvening at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon that Mr. Ray had been ordered to bed by his physician because of a serious cold that had developed characteristics of Spanish influenza. A continuance until Monday was asked by the defense.

INFECTED MILK CAUSES DISEASE

One of Principal Agents of Tuberculosis Among Children During the Milk-drinking Period.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Plain doubt that tuberculosis is a "city disease" and a sharply defined theory that tubercular infected cow's milk is one of the principal agents of human infection, were presented to the American Public Health association convention here today by Dr. Burton S. Rogers of New York.

"Childhood is almost universally recognized as the age when the bulk of the primary human tubercular infections occur," said Dr. Rogers. "The two paramount conditions of childhood are close association with parents and the milk drinking period."

"Official records show that nearly 10 per cent of the more than 40,000,000 hogs reaching packing houses annually were found tubercular in some degree. The same ratio applied to hogs slaughtered on farms and elsewhere without inspection, and to animals not sent to markets would make the annual total of infected hogs nearly 10,000,000."

"Most hogs are marketed around nine months of age, which means they acquired the infection within a year. At that rate, during the ten year childhood period of a given human generation, 100,000,000 hogs would be infected."

"Can human babies be joint victims of a common cause? Had most of the hogs spent parts of their lifetimes on different farms, instead of as a rule on one farm only, a much larger percentage of them would have shown lesions, paralleling the high percentage found in the human, the bulk of whom obtain their dairy produce from innumerable and unknown farms and 10 per cent of whom die of tuberculosis. Is there any significance in the being near the same point with a 10 per cent tuberculosis applicable to both?"

"The people of this country—particularly health and tuberculosis workers, packers and farmers—should realize that out on the farms of this country, wherever hogs and cattle can associate in the same pastures and quarters, the hogs are testing the cattle for tuberculosis just as though we had deliberately placed them there for that very purpose."

Dr. Rogers said that if each farmer, assured that the object was co-operation and not prosecution, would mark or tag each hog he sends to market with his name and address, the full result of these "hog tests" of cattle could be ascertained within one year. This, he said, would save the $30,000,000 which has been estimated as the cost for tubercular tests on each farm in the country, and leave that amount to spend on aiding farm residents who may have the disease.

Expressing doubt that tuberculosis is really a city disease, Dr. Rogers said the secretary of the Indiana state board of health had written him that out of a total population of 13,000 in Crawford county, Indiana, 2000 had died of tuberculosis within ten years.

"Can such a record be even paralleled in the worst 'lung block' in the worst city? Investigation in other states might reveal even worse conditions."

He explained that Crawford county has 304 square miles and that the 13,000 residents are scattered on 1861 farms and in twenty-one towns and villages, the largest urban center containing less than 1200 inhabitants. He added:

"It is doubtful if there is a three-story tenement in the county and if every house is not at least ten feet from every other house and if every living and sleeping room has not one or more outside windows. These are certainly not city conditions."

Consequently, "buy now" promises to be a campaign to a "double third" as a campaign slogan for the remainder of the week.

Totals of subscriptions by districts were reported tonight as follows:

District	Subscription	Pct.
St. Louis	$213,316,450	82
Minneapolis	159,708,600	76
Boston	298,590,000	59
Dallas	127,167,150	57
San Francisco	228,943,050	56
Chicago	474,686,150	54

New York	713,988,000	39
Atlanta	74,495,300	38
Philadelphia	191,510,100	38

The New York district gained but $30,000,000 today while Chicago netted $26,000,000. Cleveland added $18,000,000.

Governor Gunter of Colorado telegraphed Secretary McAdoo that the state of Colorado and the city of Denver had both exceeded their quotas.

Mothers Thank Us
Keep your growing girls free from colds and weakening coughs and you are helping them to healthy vigorous womanhood. Thousands of mothers have written letters of thanks, telling what has done for their daughters in ridding them of coughs that "hung on" and weakened them just at the age when the young girls required all the physical strength they could command.

Foley's Honey and Tar is noted for its quick effect on coughs, colds and croup. Mrs. Ada Sanders, Cottontown, Tenn., writes: "We have used Honey and Tar for our best and only cough remedy. It never fails to cure our two girls when they have colds."

If You Are Moody, Find Out Why!

To feel "blue", cross and nervous all the time is not natural for anyone. And all too often sick kidneys are to blame for this unhappy state.

Housework, the many family cares and loss of rest and sleep, wear the nerves and so weaken the kidneys. Then comes that tired, fretful, half-sick condition.

Many nervous, unstrung women who suffer backache, headache, dizziness, and kidney irregularities would be well if the kidneys were well. Doan's Kidney Pills have brought health and happiness to thousands of women. Read these cases.

These Ogden Women Speak:

Mrs. Laura M. Jenne, 3625 Jefferson Ave., says: "Several times in the past when my kidneys have been weak and disordered they have annoyed me in many ways. My back has ached and become lame and sore. Several years ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results. Whenever I have had any return of the complaint since I have bought a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at McBride's Drug Store and they have always given me positive relief."

Mrs. L. Berrill, 2341 Jackson Ave., says: "A few years ago my back was dreadfully lame and ached and felt generally out of sorts. My kidneys didn't act right. Others of the family had used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results so I got some at McBride's Drug Store. They helped me from the first. I kept on taking them until I was cured."

GRAVE OUTLOOK FOR THE LOAN

Total Subscriptions Still Short of Half Way Figure—People Must Wake Up.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Only $156,000,000 of new Liberty loan subscriptions were reported today, according to advices from the whole nation gathered by the treasury.

The total subscription so far is $235,480,650, still short of the three billions, the "half way figure."

In view of the expectation that fruits of liberty day celebrations last Saturday would be fully reflected in today's reports, treasury officials declared the outlook grave.

"Those in charge of the Liberty loan campaign made no concealment of the fact that the situation was very disappointing," said the official review of the loan progress. "With only four days of the loan period remaining, the country now faces the task of raising in excess of three billion dollars or more than $700,000,000 a day."

Early morning messages to headquarters stimulated hope, not borne out by tonight's figures that President Wilson's rejection of the German proposal for an immediate armistice would create a wave of enthusiasm which would sweep a multitude of subscriptions on its crest. Tomorrow's figures will be watched carefully for evidence of this situation reported in scores of telegrams from field workers.

Considering the chance that subscribers are delaying payment of the first ten per cent installment and that consequently their pledges do not show in the official figures, campaign managers today urged that bondbuyers pay down their percent installment immediately. This will have the effect of relieving banks of the tremendous task of tabulating these payments in the rush of the last four days of the loan period.

On Saturday, the final day, precisely how big a job is cut out for it that day. There is the belief, also, among some managers that too many people are waiting until late in the week before increasing their subscriptions or entering new pledges. By doing this, it was pointed out, they will serve to create unnecessary long lines of prospective buyers at bank windows, or to take the time of workers which would be devoted better to stirring out the persons who may have escaped earlier solicitations.
